4. The learned Government Advocate (Crl.Side) appearing for the respondent submits that there was a money dispute between the parties, due to which, the petitioners had abused and assaulted the defacto complainant's son with iron rod wooden and caused injuries to him. He admits that the injured was discharged from the hospital. He further submits that there are no previous case against the petitioners. However, he vehemently opposed for the grant of anticipatory bail to the petitioners.

5. Heard the learned counsel for the petitioners as well as the learned Government Advocate (Crl.Side) and perused the materials available on record.

6. Considering the nature of offence and there was a money dispute between the parties, the injured had already been discharged from the hospital and also the fact that there are no previous case against the petitioners and considering all other aspects, this Court is inclined to grant anticipatory bail to the petitioners with certain conditions.

7. Accordingly, the petitioners are ordered to be released on bail in the event of arrest or on their appearance, within a period of fifteen days from
