P.DHANABAL,J.

The petitioners/A1, A3, A4 and A5 who apprehend arrest at the hands of the respondent police for the alleged offence punishable under Sections 191(2), 296(b), 115(2), 118(1) and 351(2) of Bharatiya Nyaya Sanhita, 2023 in Crime No.526 of 2024 seeks anticipatory bail.

2. The case of the prosecution is that there was a previous enmity already existing between the petitioners and the defacto complainant regarding property dispute, due to which, the petitioners had abused and attacked the defacto complainant and his friends and caused injuries and also threatened them with dire consequence. Hence, the case.

3. The learned counsel appearing for the petitioners submits that the petitioners are innocent persons and they have not committed any such offence as alleged by the prosecution. He further submits that they are ready to abide by any stringent conditions imposed by this Court. Therefore, he

4. The learned Government Advocate (Crl.Side) appearing for the respondent submits that there was a property dispute between the petitioners and the defacto complainant, due to which, the petitioners had abused and assaulted the defacto complainant and his friends and caused injuries to him. He admits that the injured was discharged from the hospital. He further submits that there is no previous case against the petitioner. However, he vehemently opposed for the grant of anticipatory bail to the petitioners.

5. Heard the learned counsel for the petitioners as well as the learned Government Advocate (Crl.Side) and perused the materials available on record.

6. Considering the nature of offence, there was a property dispute between the parties and the injured had already been discharged from the hospital and also the fact that there is no previous case against the petitioners and considering all other aspects, this Court is inclined to grant anticipatory bail to the petitioners with certain conditions.
