COMMON ORDER

In all these Criminal Revision Cases, the State has challenged the orders passed by the learned Principal District and Sessions Judges, dismissing their applications filed for confiscation of the property seized during the course of investigation of the offences under the Mines and Minerals (Development & Regulation) Act, 1957 [hereinafter referred to as 'MM(DR) Act'].

2. The investigating officer had filed the applications by relying upon the observations made by the Full Bench of this Court in S.Kumar V. District Collector, reported in (2023) 3 MLJ (Crl.) 536, wherein the Full Bench held that power to confiscate can be exercised by the Special Court under the MM(DR) Act.

3. The learned Sessions Judge, dismissed the said applications stating that it is the Magistrate, who is empowered to take cognizance of the offence and hence the competent authority to confiscate as per Section 21(4A) of the MM(DR) Act. The learned Judge, dismissed the applications as not maintainable, by relying upon the judgment of this

Court in Annadurai v. The Inspector of Police, Kurisilapet Police

decided on 29.01.2024], wherein this Court had held that it is the Magistrate who is empowered to initiate confiscation proceedings.

4. The learned Government Advocate (Crl.Side), who appears for the revision petitioners in all these cases, would submit that in view of the directions of the Full Bench of this Court in S.Kumar's case [cited supra], the learned Sessions Judge was not right in dismissing the applications filed by the petitioners for initiating confiscation proceedings.

5. Heard the learned counsels for the respondents.

6. The order of the Full Bench in S.Kumar's case [cited supra], which is sought to be relied upon by the learned Government Advocate (Crl.Side) reads as follows:

“199....

(v) While the Special Court alone is entitled and empowered to try the offences under the MMDR Act, however, the power of the Special Court would be only in relation to confiscation and release of the vehicle, which has been seized and insofar as compounding of offence is concerned, it would be within the domain of the persons authorised u/s 22 of the MMDR Act, who would have authority and the Court has no role to play in the matter of compounding. Further, the Special Courts constituted under the MMDR Act shall jointly try the offences under the MMDR Act as well as the offence u/s 379 IPC so as to avoid any possible conflict in the decision.”

7. A learned Single Judge (K.K.Ramakrishnan, J.) of this Court in CrI.R.C.(MD) Nos.470 of 2023 etc. batch, by order dated 11.10.2023 [Ramar and others v. The State], had observed that the investigating officer can file an application before the Special Court for initiation of confiscation.

8. Another learned Single Judge (N.Anand Venkatesh, J) of this Court in Annadurai's case [cited supra] had considered both the above observations and held that the observation in so far as it holds that the power of confiscation can be exercised by the Special Court is in conflict with the decision of the Hon'ble Supreme Court in Pradeep S. Wodeyar v. State of Karnataka, reported in (2021) 19 SCC 62 and also in conflict with the provisions of the MM(DR) Act. The relevant portion of the order passed by N.Anand Venkatesh, J. in Annadurai's case [cited supra] reads as follows:

“14.In view of the above legal position, Special Courts under certain special statutes like the Prevention of Corruption Act, 1988, the SC/ST Act, 1989 and the POCSO Act, 2012 which enjoy the status and powers of a Court of Sessions have been specially vested with the power to take cognizance of offences under those Acts without there being an order of committal (See Section 14 of the SC/ST Act and Section 33 of the POCSO Act, 2012). Admittedly, even though Sections 30~A and 30~B were inserted in 2015 no corresponding provision like Section 33 of the POCSO Act, 2012 was inserted in the MMDR Act, 1957 enabling the Special Court to directly take cognizance of offences under Section 21(1) of the Act. The position is now put beyond controversy by the decision of the Supreme Court in Pradeep S. Wodeyar v. State of Karnataka, (2021) 19 SCC 62, where Dr. D.Y Chandrachud, J (as the learned Chief Justice then was) has observed as under:

“38.Section 193CrPC states that the Sessions Court shall not take cognizance of an offence as a court of original jurisdiction unless the Magistrate commits the case to it. The only exception is if it is expressly provided otherwise by the Code or the statute. Neither the Code nor the MMDR Act provide that the Special Court could directly take cognizance of the offences. Therefore, the Sessions Court did not have the authority to take cognizance.”

Thus, the Special Court under the MMDR Act, 1957 cannot take cognizance of an offence under the Act without an order of committal by the Magistrate. Consequently, the expression “court competent to take cognizance” occurring in Section 21 (4-A) of the MMDR Act, 1957 is the Court of the Magistrate and not the Special Court.

15.Since the prosecution under Section 21(1) is commenced through a complaint by the authorised officer in terms of Section 190(1)(a) Cr.P.C, it is now necessary to examine the issue as to which is the competent court before which the complaint ought to be laid for offences under the MMDR Act, 1957. The Full Bench in S. Kumar v District Collector (2023) 3 MLJ (Cri) 536 and K.K Ramakrishnan, J in Ramar v The State (Cr R.C MD 470 of 2023), have concluded that the complaint ought to be filed before the Special Court. Unfortunately, and with all due respect the decisions of the Supreme Court appear to state the opposite.”

WEB COPY

CrI.RC Nos.2020 of 2024 etc. batch

9. Section 21(4A) of MM(DR) Act, reads as follows:

“Any mineral, tool, equipment, vehicle or any other thing seized under sub-section (4), shall be liable to be confiscated by an order of the court competent to take cognizance of the offence under sub-section (1) and shall be disposed of in accordance with the directions of such court.”

10. The learned Single Judge in Annadurai's case [cited supra] further concluded in paragraph No.30 as follows:

“30. In view of the aforesaid discussion, the legal position can be summarised as under:

(a)The power to initiate confiscation proceedings and issue directions for release/disposal of the property under Section 21(4-A) of the MMDR Act, 1957 lies with the Court and not with any other authority;

(b)Section 21(4-A) expressly states that the Court competent to initiate confiscation proceedings and issue directions for the disposal of the seized material is the court competent to take cognizance of the offence under Section 21(1) of the Act;

(c)The Special Court constituted under Section 30-B of the MMDR Act, 1957 is invested with the powers of a Court of Session under

WEB COPY

Section 30-C. Consequently, the Special Court being a Court of Session cannot directly take cognizance of an offence under the Act in view of the bar contained in Section 193 Cr.P.C and in the light of the law laid down in paragraph 38 of the decision in Pradeep S. Wodeyar v. State of Karnataka, (2021) 19 SCC 62;

(d)As a consequence, a complaint under Section 21 of the MMDR Act, 1957 can be filed only before the jurisdictional Magistrate empowered to take cognizance of the offence (State (NCT of Delhi) v. Sanjay, (2014) 9 SCC 772, Kanwar Pal Singh v. State of U.P., (2020) 14 SCC 331and Jayant v. State of M.P., (2021) 2 SCC 670), and not before the Special Court;

(e)Ex-consequenti, the Court for the purposes of Section 21(4A) is the Court of the Magistrate since it is that Court which is empowered to take cognizance of the offences under Section 21(1). Hence, an application for release of vehicle will lie only before the jurisdictional Magistrate;

(f)The decisions of this Court in Muthu v District Collector (2018 SCC Online Mad 13985), the order passed in review dated 09.09.2019, the decision of the Full Bench in S. Kumar v District Collector (2023) 3 MLJ (Cri) 536 and that of the learned single judge Ramar v The State (Cr R.C MD 470 of 2023) dated 11.10.2023, to the extent that it is inconsistent with the decisions of the Supreme Court in State (NCT of Delhi) v. Sanjay, (2014) 9 SCC 772, Kanwar Pal Singh v. State of U.P., (2020) 14 SCC 331and Jayant v. State of M.P., (2021) 2 SCC 670 and paragraph 38 of the decision in Pradeep S. Wodeyar v. State of Karnataka, (2021) 19 SCC 62, as discussed above, do not lay down the correct law.”

11. Another learned Single Judge of this Court (M.Nirmal Kumar, J.), in Shibu K.V. v. State Rep. by the Inspector of Police,

[Crl.R.C.No.260 of 2024 dated 21.03.2024] followed the decision of

N.Anand Venkatesh, J.

12. Thus, from the aforesaid judgment in Annadurai's case [cited supra], it would be clear that it is the learned Magistrate who is empowered to take cognizance. Further Section 21(4A) of the MM (DR) Act makes it clear that the Court competent to take cognizance, can take action for confiscation.

13. In the light of the decision of this Court in Annadurai's case [cited supra], which is based on the judgment of the Hon'ble Supreme Court, that it is the learned Magistrate, who is empowered to take cognizance of the offence under the MM(DR) Act and consequently, is empowered to initiate confiscation proceedings, as per Section 21(4A) of the MMDR Act, there is no infirmity in the impugned orders.

14. Therefore, the impugned orders passed by the learned Sessions Judge, are in accordance with law and therefore, do not warrant any interference in the above revision. Hence, all the Criminal Revision Cases, stand dismissed, giving liberty to the petitioners to file
