2.The case of the prosecution is that due to civil dispute between the parties, the petitioners along with other accused entered into the property of the de-facto complainant and attacked her husband and also threatened them with dire consequences. Hence, the case.

3.The learned counsel appearing for the petitioners submitted that the petitioners have not committed any offence as alleged by the prosecution and they have been falsely implicated in this case. Hence, he prays for grant of anticipatory bail to the petitioners.

4.The learned Government Advocate (Crl. side) submitted that due to civil dispute, the above said occurrence had happened and hence, he strongly opposed to grant anticipatory bail to the petitioners. However, he fairly conceded that the injured has suffered only simple injury.
