2. The case of the prosecution is that due to previous enmity, the petitioner abused the defacto complainant by using filthy language, attacked him with a wooden stick and also threatened him with dire consequences.

3. The learned counsel appearing for the petitioner submits that the petitioner is an innocent person and he has not committed any offence as alleged by the prosecution.

4. The learned Government Advocate (Crl. Side) appearing for the respondent opposed for grant of anticipatory bail on the ground that the investigation is yet to be completed. A case and counter case has been registered. However, he fairly submits that the petitioner is not having any previous case.

5. Considering the nature of allegations and also considering the fact that the petitioner is not having any previous case, this Court is inclined to grant anticipatory bail to the petitioner.
