The petitioners (A2 and A4) sought anticipatory bail and applied for arrangements to obtain solvency sureties and a solvency certificate, fearing the Magistrate might require them. However, the petitioners have been unable to obtain these documents, as none of their relatives own sufficient property, and the Tahsildar has denied issuing a solvency certificate. Hence, there has been a delay in the process.

2. Meanwhile, A1 and A3 have successfully obtained the solvency certificate and executed sureties. In view of the same, the delay is accepted. The petitioners are directed to execute sureties within 15 days from the date of receipt of a copy of this order. Further, it is made clear that the learned Judicial Magistrate, Vedasanthur, Dindigul District, shall not insist on any solvency sureties or solvency certificate. The petitioners are required to execute a bond for Rs.5,000/- with two sureties, since this is a case, involves a counterclaim.

3. With the above direction, this Miscellaneous Petition is allowed.
