

petitioners that they should also be given another opportunity to clear the type test at this stage may kindly be declined.

I have heard learned counsel for the parties and have gone through the record with their able assistance.

Once clearing of the type test was must to be eligible to compete for the post in question and the petitioners failed to clear the same, no grievance can be raised by the petitioners. Further, the chance has already been given to the candidates, who could not appear in the type test due to circumstances beyond their control, so as to give a fair opportunity/chance to everybody for competing for the post in question.

As of now, the selection is already over and the selected candidates have already been appointed. No selected candidate is a party to the present petition. Keeping in view the fact that the petitioners have been given due chance to compete further for the post in question but they failed in the type test, no grievance can be raised by them that they should also be given another chance. No candidate has been given two chances to appear in the type test and therefore grant of said benefit to the petitioners and that too at this stage when the selection has already been finalized is not feasible.

Dismissed.
