IN THE HIGH COURT OF PUNJAB AND HARYANA AT CHANDIGARH

CRR(F)-1535-2024 (O&M)

Date of decision: 05.12.2024

Bhupender

... Petitioner

Vs.

Pooja Rani

... Respondent

CORAM: HON'BLE MR. JUSTICE HARPREET SINGH BRAR

Present: Mr. Raj Kumar Malik, Advocate for the petitioner.

HARPREET SINGH BRAR, J. (ORAL)

1. The present revision petition has been preferred against the impugned judgment dated 03.09.2024 passed by learned Principal Judge, Family Court, Sonipat, Camp Court at Gohana, vide which, while partly allowing the petition filed under Section 125 of the Code of Criminal Procedure, 1973 (for short 'Cr.P.C.') [now Section 144 of Bharatiya Nagarik Suraksha Sanhita, 2023 (for short 'BNSS')], maintenance of Rs.15,000/- per month was awarded to be paid to the respondent from the date of filing of the petition under Section 125 of Cr.P.C. (now Section 144 of BNSS) and

Rs.16,000/- per month from the date of passing of the impugned judgment.

2. The marriage between the petitioner and the respondent was solemnized on 08.03.2018 according to Hindu rites and rituals. However, matrimonial dispute ensued between the couple and the respondent filed a petition under Section 125 of Cr.P.C. (now Section 144 of BNSS) seeking maintenance of Rs.35,000/- per month. The petitioner filed a reply and contested the claim made by the respondent. Learned Family Court, vide impugned judgment dated 03.09.2024, granted maintenance allowance of Rs.15,000/- per month in favour of the respondent from the date of filing of the petition under Section 125 of Cr.P.C. (now Section 144 of BNSS) and Rs.16,000/- per month from the date of passing of the impugned judgment. Aggrieved by the same, the petitioner has approached this Court by filing the present petition.

3. Learned counsel for the petitioner, inter alia, contends that the respondent is a well qualified lady and is having qualification of B.Com., M.Com., B.Ed. and she has qualified the entrance test of UGC Net December, 2021 and June, 2022. She is also providing tuition to the students and her enrollment in PhD could earn her stipend of Rs.45,000/- per month. The respondent left the company of the petitioner without any justifiable cause and she also instituted a complaint under Section 12 of Protection of Women from Domestic Violence Act, 2005, in which, by producing on record forged and fabricated receipt of payment of rent, she obtained an order in her favour. The petitioner has already filed an application under Section 340 of Cr.P.C. (now Section 379 of BNSS) for taking appropriate action against the respondent.

4. I have heard learned counsel for the petitioner and perused the record of the case with his able assistance.

5. The object and purpose behind granting maintenance is to ensure that the dependent spouse is not reduced to destitution or vagrancy on account of failure of marriage. At the same time, a just and careful balance must be struck to ensure that this provision does not degenerate into a weapon to punish the other spouse. The Courts are required to conduct the maintenance proceedings, while being alive to the legislative intent behind the provision under Section 125 Cr.P.C. (now Section 144 of BNSS) in its true spirit, which is to provide speedy assistance and social justice to women, children and infirm parents. The provisions of Section 125 Cr.P.C. (now Section 144 of BNSS) were enacted as a measure to further social justice and protect dependent women, children and parents, which also fall within the constitutional sweep of Article 15(3) reinforced by Article 39 of the Constitution of India.

6. A three-Judge Bench of the Hon'ble Supreme Court in Vimala (K.) Vs. Veeraswamy (K.) (1991) 2 SCC 375, speaking through Justice Fatima Beevi, opined as follows:

“3. Section 125 of the Code of Criminal Procedure is meant to achieve a social purpose. The object is to prevent vagrancy and destitution. It provides a speedy remedy for the supply of food, clothing, and shelter to the deserted wife.”

7. Further, a two-Judge Bench of the Hon’ble Supreme Court in Kirtikant D. Vadodaria Vs. State of Gujarat (1996) 4 SCC 479, speaking through Justice Faizan Uddin, opined as follows:

“15.... While dealing with the ambit and scope of the provision contained in Section 125 of the Code, it has to be borne in mind that the dominant and primary object is to give social justice to the woman, child and infirm parents, etc. and to prevent destitution and vagrancy by compelling those who can support those who are unable to support themselves but have a moral claim for support. The provisions in Section 125 provide a speedy remedy to those women, children and destitute parents who are in distress. The provisions in Section 125 are intended to achieve this special purpose. The dominant purpose behind the benevolent provisions contained in Section 125 clearly is that the wife, child and parents should not be left in a helpless state of distress, destitution and starvation.”

8. Another objective the legislature has sought to achieve by this provision is to provide maintenance pendente lite to the applicant spouse during proceedings emerging out of matrimonial disputes so that she/he can maintain herself/himself, have sufficient funds to pursue the litigation, and not suffer at the instance of the affluent spouse.

9. There is a general tendency on the part of the wife to amplify her needs and the husband to conceal his actual income, making it difficult to determine the earning capacity of the rival claimants with exactitude. The rival claimants must scrupulously bring on record their actual respective earning capacities in order for the Court to arrive at quantum of maintenance which is just and fair in terms of principle of equistatus. The quantum of maintenance must be justifiable and realistic to provide succour to the dependent spouse and also to avoid occurrence of the two extremes of the maintenance being either paltry or extravagant, ensuring that neither of the two is reduced to a life of penury. The adequacy of the maintenance allowance has to be determined by the yardstick of the dependent spouse being able to lead a life of reasonable comfort.

10. While dealing with the issue of maintenance in extenso, a two Judge Bench of the Hon'ble Supreme Court in Rajnesh Vs. Neha and another, (2021) 2 SCC 324 laid down the criteria for determining quantum of maintenance and issued the following directions:

"VI Final Directions

130. In view of the foregoing discussion as contained in Part B - 1 to V of this judgment, we deem it appropriate to pass the following directions in exercise of our powers under Article 142 of the Constitution of India:

(a) Issue of overlapping jurisdiction

131. To overcome the issue of overlapping jurisdiction, and avoid conflicting orders being passed in different proceedings, it has become necessary to issue directions in this regard, so that there is uniformity in the practice followed by the Family Courts/District Courts/Magistrate Courts throughout the country.

We direct that:

(i) where successive claims for maintenance are made by a party under different statutes, the Court would consider an adjustment or setoff, of the amount awarded in the previous proceeding/s, while determining whether any further amount is to be awarded in the subsequent proceeding;

(ii) it is made mandatory for the applicant to disclose the previous proceeding and the orders passed therein, in the subsequent proceeding;

(iii) if the order passed in the previous proceeding/s requires any modification or variation, it would be required to be done in the same proceeding

(b) Payment of Interim Maintenance

132. The Affidavit of Disclosure of Assets and Liabilities annexed as Enclosures I, II and III of this judgment, as may be applicable, shall be filed by both parties in all maintenance proceedings, including pending proceedings before the concerned Family Court / District Court / Magistrates Court, as the case may be, throughout the country.

(c) Criteria for determining the quantum of maintenance

133. For determining the quantum of maintenance payable to an applicant, the Court shall take into account the criteria enumerated in Part B III of the judgment.

134. The aforesaid factors are however not exhaustive, and the concerned Court may exercise its discretion to consider any other factor/s which may be necessary or of relevance in the facts and circumstances of a case.

(d) Date from which maintenance is to be awarded

135. We make it clear that maintenance in all cases will be awarded from the date of filing the application for maintenance, as held in Part B-IV above.

(e) Enforcement/Execution of orders of maintenance

136. For enforcement/execution of orders of maintenance, it is directed that an order or decree of maintenance may be enforced under Section 28A of the Hindu Marriage Act, 1956; Section 20(6) of the D.V. Act; and Section 128 of Cr.P.C may be applicable. The order of maintenance may be enforced as a money decree of a civil court as per the provisions of the CPC more particularly Sections 51, 55, 58, 60 r.w. Order XXI."

11. From perusal of the record, it transpires that the petitioner is serving as Head Constable in Delhi Police and in the month of March, 2024, his gross salary was Rs.71,070/- per month. Further, as per Section 14 of the Family Courts Act, 1984, rigor of Indian Evidence Act, 1872 do not apply in the cases instituted under Section 125 of Cr.P.C. (now Section 144 of BNSS), as the legislative intent behind this provision in its true spirit is to provide speedy assistance and social justice to women, children and infirm parents. Furthermore, the arguments raised by learned counsel for the petitioner with regard to production on record the forged and fabricated receipt of payment of rent has already been dealt with by learned trial Court.

12. A perusal of the impugned judgment passed by learned Family Court makes it evident that the Court below has duly considered the material placed before it for determining the quantum of maintenance. A careful and just balance has been drawn, keeping in view the spiralling inflation rates and high cost of living corresponding to the reasonable needs of the respondent. Learned counsel for the petitioner has not been able to indicate any perversity in the impugned judgment, which warrants interference by this Court.

13. Accordingly, the present petition is dismissed being bereft of any merit.
14. All the pending miscellaneous application(s), if any, shall stand disposed of.
