through VC and submits that the process is underway and the entire information, after necessary collation, shall be supplied to the petitioner within six weeks from today. He submits that the statement is on the basis of the instructions he has received from the respondents. Such statement is taken on record.

4. In view of the above, learned counsel for the petitioner submits that though the time sought by the respondent is beyond the time given by the learned CIC but, in view of the above said statement, the petitioner, at the moment, does not press his contempt petition. He, however, submits that in case, despite the expiry period of six weeks from today, the directions are not complied with, the petitioner may be permitted to revive the present petition.

5. The contempt petition is, accordingly, disposed of in the aforesaid terms. Liberty, as prayed, is granted.
