tilak ceremony and as per the allegation, the petitioner was apprehended by the police with an illegal country-made pistol but without any cartridge, if the petitioner had actually used the weapon in celebratory firing, then there must be some cartridge with the seized weapon and further, the seizure list was prepared at the police station and not at the place of recovery and no independent person was made a witness to the search and seizure despite the availability of several independent persons at the place where the celebratory firing was allegedly made. It is lastly submitted that against the petitioner the investigation has been completed.
