S.A 1495 of 1965

Bhupendra Narayan Sinha
Vs.
The State of West Bengal and another

1. The parties have been consistently unrepresented when the matter was called on for hearing on previous occasions.
2. On October 31, 2025, a last chance was given to the appellant to argue the appeal.
3. Even today at the time of call, none appears for either of the parties, nor is any adjournment sought for.
4. Accordingly, S.A. 1495 of 1965 is dismissed for default without any order as to costs.
5. Interim order, if any, stands vacated.
