And

In the matter of : Sk. Dablu. petitioner

Mr. Debanshu Ghorai
....for the petitioner

Mr. Madhusudhan Sur, Ld. APP
Mr. Sufi Kamal
....for the State

1. Heard the submissions of both the learned advocates.
2. Perused the materials in the case diary.
3. After going through the materials in the case diary and the various statements made by the various witnesses under section 180 of BNSS, which, prima facie, goes against the present petitioner and also having considered the nature and seriousness of the allegation, which involves a racket regarding lottery business, this Court is of the view that benefit of section 482(2) of BNSS may not be extended in favour of the petitioner, even though he is not an FIR named person.
4. Hence the prayer for anticipatory bail is rejected.
