..for the State

Heard the learned counsels for the parties.

Perused the case diary.

Considering the fact that the only material available against the present petitioners is the statement of a co-accused, the petitioner has been able to rebut the restriction contained in Section 37 of the NDPS Act and as charge sheet has been submitted and considering the materials available in the case diary, I am inclined to grant anticipatory bail to the petitioners.

Accordingly, the application for anticipatory bail of the petitioners is allowed.

In the event of arrest, the petitioners shall be released on bail upon furnishing a bond of Rs.10,000/-each with two sureties of like amount each, one of whom must be local, to the satisfaction of the Arresting Officer and also be subject to the conditions as laid down under Section 438(2) of the Code of Criminal Procedure, 1973 corresponding to Section 482(2) of the BNSS, 2023 and on further conditions that the petitioners shall not threaten or intimidate witnesses or tamper with evidence and they shall surrender before the learned jurisdictional Court and pray for bail within four weeks from this date and shall attend the jurisdictional Court regularly.

The application for anticipatory bail is, thus, disposed of.
