

IN THE HIGH COURT OF JUDICATURE OF BOMBAY
BENCH AT AURANGABAD

960 CIVIL APPLICATION NO. 4406 OF 2025
IN FAST/35528/2024

GITA MADHUKAR BORDE AND ANR

VERSUS

RELIANCE GENERAL INSURANCE CO LTD AND ORS

WITH

CIVIL APPLICATION NO. 312 OF 2025

IN FAST/35528/2024

WITH

CIVIL APPLICATION NO. 313 OF 2025

IN FAST/35528/2024

RELIANCE GENERAL INSURANCE CO LTD

VERSUS

SANGITA MADHUKAR BORDE AND ORS

....

Mr. R. V. Gore, Advocate for applicant in CA 4406/2025 and for the respondents In CA Nos.312,313/2025

Mr. A. S. Usmanpurkar, Advocate for Respondent No.1 in CA No.4406/2025 and for the applicant in CA Nos.312,313/2025

....

CORAM : S. G. CHAPALGAONKAR, J.

DATE : 02.05.2025

PER COURT :-

APPLICATION FOR DELAY

. Heard learned Advocates appearing for respective parties.

2. The applicant is seeking to condone the delay of 130 days caused in filing the appeal. Perused the reasons. Apparently, delay has been occasioned on account of administrative exigency and procedural aspects. Hence, sufficient cause is made out to condone the delay. In result, application is allowed. Delay of 130 days caused in filing the appeal is hereby condoned.

3. Appeal be registered. The learned advocate appearing for the appellant, as well as the learned advocate appearing for the original claimants, on instructions, state that they are willing to negotiate the matter for settlement and request this Court to post the matter before the Lok Adalat on 10.05.2025. Accordingly, the matter be placed before the Lok Adalat. Parties shall remain present before the Lok Adalat on the said date.

[S. G. CHAPALGAONKAR, J.]

HRJadhav