CORAM : N.R. BORKAR, J.
DATE : 22.12.2025.

P.C. :

1. Both these applications filed for anticipatory bail are arising out of one and the same crime. They are thus being disposed of by this common order.
2. The applicants are apprehending their arrest in Crime No.117 of 2025 registered at Silvassa Police Station for the offences punishable under Sections 190, 191(2) and 118(2) of the Bharatiya Nyaya Sanhita, 2023.
3. According to the prosecution, on the date of incident, which took place on 12th September 2025, due to a previous dispute, the present applicants along with other co-accused allegedly assaulted the first informant with a wooden stick and an iron rod. It is further alleged that due to said assault, the first informant sustained grievous injuries.

4. I have heard the learned counsel appearing for the applicant and the learned Special Public Prosecutor for the respondent / U.T.

5. Learned counsel for the applicants submits that the applicants are students. It is submitted that the incident was not premeditated. It is submitted that there are no other criminal antecedents against the present applicants. It is submitted that the applicants are ready to cooperate in the investigation. Learned counsel for the applicants submits that the applicants, without prejudice to their rights and contentions, are ready and willing to pay Rs.1,00,000/- to the first informant towards medical expenses.

6. Learned Special Public Prosecutor for the respondent/U.T. submits that specific overt-act is attributed to the applicants in the FIR. It is submitted that considering the nature of crime, the applicants may not be released on anticipatory bail.

7. I have perused the FIR. Prima facie, the incident does not appear to be premeditated. There are no other criminal antecedents against the applicants. Considering the overall facts and circumstances of the case, I am inclined to release the applicants on anticipatory bail. In the result, the following order is passed.
