ORDER

Challenging the Lok Adalat award passing an award of compensation in favour of the respondent, the present revision has been filed by the guardian of the petitioner.

2. It is the contention of the petitioner that originally, husband had filed divorce petition against the wife which came to be decreed exparte on 28.11.2022. The husband died on 26.05.2023. Thereafter, the parents namely the respondents filed claim petition before the Tribunal and the same has been referred to the Lok Adalat on 14.12.2024. In the meanwhile, in MCOP, the petitioner had filed an application to implead herself, however, the same has been dismissed, as against which, revision has been filed and the same is pending separately. According to the revision petitioner, Lok Adalat award has to be set aside, since, she is also entitled to money. Hence, this revision.

3. Since, no adverse order is passed against the respondents, notice to the respondents is dispensed with. Heard the learned counsel for the petitioner and perused the materials placed on record.

4. As long as there was no fraud played on the Court in awarding the compensation, this Court is of the view that the rights of the petitioner to claim shares are separate and independent, it has to be established in a separate proceedings.

5. Such view of the matter, I do not find any merits in the revision and accordingly, this revision stands disposed of. No costs. Consequently, connected miscellaneous petition stands closed.
