2. The case of the prosecution is that, based on a secret information, the respondent police went to the spot and found that the accused persons were in illegal possession of 1.5 kilograms of ganja; that upon investigation, it is found that the petitioner was also involved in the aforesaid offence. Hence, this case.

3. Learned counsel appearing for the petitioner would submit that the petitioner is innocent and she has been falsely implicated in this case, based on the confession of the co-accused; that the petitioner has no bad antecedents and never committed any offence as alleged by the prosecution; and that the petitioner is ready to produce solvent sureties and to abide by any conditions that may be imposed by this Court and also undertake to appear and to co-operate for the investigation, and prayed for anticipatory bail to the petitioner.

4. Learned Government Advocate (Crl. Side) appearing for the respondent police opposed for the grant of anticipatory bail to the petitioner, stating that the petitioner along with other accused were involved in possession of 1.5 kilograms of ganja and used the same for illegal sale; that the petitioner has no previous cases; and that the investigation is pending.

5. Heard the learned counsel for the petitioner and the learned Government Advocate (Crl. Side) appearing for the respondent police and perused the materials available on record.

6. Taking note of the facts and circumstances of the case, the nature of allegation against the petitioner, quantity of contra band involved, submissions made by the learned counsels on either side, the fact that the petitioner herein is a lady, she has no previous cases and implicated in this case only based on the confession of the co-accused, and since, custodial interrogation is not required, this Court is inclined to grant anticipatory bail to the petitioner with certain conditions.

7. Accordingly, the petitioner is ordered to be released on bail in the event of arrest or on her appearance, within a period of fifteen days from the date on which the order copy made ready, before the learned V
