3.Learned counsel appearing for the petitioner would submit that the petitioner is an innocent person; and that he has been falsely implicated in this case and prayed for anticipatory bail to the petitioner.

4.Learned Government Advocate (Crl. Side) appearing for the respondent police, while opposing the grant of anticipatory bail to the petitioner, reiterated the prosecution case and on instructions submitted that the occurrence took place due to a clash between two groups of students in the college and that no one was injured and that the petitioner has no bad antecedents.

5.Heard the learned counsel for the petitioner and the learned Government Advocate (Crl. Side) appearing for the respondent police and perused the materials available on record.

6.Taking note of the facts and circumstances of the case, nature of allegations, submissions made by the learned counsels on either side, the fact that none were injured and the petitioner has no bad antecedents, this Court is of the view that custodial interrogation is not required for the purpose of investigation, and is inclined to grant anticipatory bail to the petitioner with certain conditions.
