2. The case of the prosecution is that the petitioner was found illegally transporting $\frac{1}{4}$ unit of sand in a bullock cart. Hence, the case.

3. Learned counsel for the petitioner would contend that the material objects have been seized; and that the custodial interrogation is not required in this case and hence prayed to grant anticipatory bail to the petitioner.

4. The learned Government Advocate (Criminal Side), per contra, would submit that the petitioner has four previous cases pending against him.

5. Heard the learned counsel for the petitioner and the learned Government Advocate (Crl.Side) for the respondent police and perused the materials available on record.

6. Considering the nature of allegations, the material objects was seized by the respondent police, though the petitioner has 4 previous cases, in all the cases, he is on bail, and since the custodial interrogation of the petitioner is not required for the purpose of investigation, this Court is inclined to grant anticipatory bail to the petitioner on certain conditions.
