2. The learned counsel for the petitioner would submit that in this case, the show cause notice was issued by the respondent on 04.10.2024.

Subsequently, vide communication dated 08.10.2024, the petitioner made a request before the respondent to grant further time for filing their reply. However, without providing sufficient time to the petitioner, the impugned order came to be passed by the respondent on 29.10.2024, i.e., within a period of 21 days from the date of communication from the petitioner and 25 days from the date of issuance of show cause notice.

3. Further, by referring the provisions of Section 74 of the GST Act, 2017, he would submit that the said provisions mandates the proper officer to issue notice at least 6 months prior to the expiry of limitation for passing the impugned assessment order, which means, the respondents are supposed to issue show cause notice at least 6 months prior to the passing of final assessment order. However, in this case, the impugned order was passed by the respondent immediately after a period of 25 days from the date of issuance of show cause notice. Hence, he would contend that no sufficient time was provided to the petitioner prior to the passing of impugned order, which is not only in contrary to the provision of Section 74 of the Act but also in violation of principles of natural justice. Therefore, he requests this Court to pass appropriate orders.

4. In reply, after taking appropriate instructions from the Department, the learned Special Government Pleader appearing for the respondent had confirmed the submissions made by the petitioner and would fairly admit that no sufficient time/opportunity was granted to the petitioner. Hence, he requests this Court to pass appropriate orders.

5. Heard the learned counsel for the petitioner and the learned Special Government Pleader appearing for the respondent and also perused the materials available on record.

6. In the case on hand, the show cause notice was issued by the respondent on 04.10.2024. Subsequently, vide communication dated 08.10.2024, the petitioner made a request before the respondent to grant further time for filing their reply. However, without acceding the said request, the impugned order came to be passed by the respondent on 29.10.2024, i.e., within a period of 21 days from the date of said communication from the petitioner and 25 days from the date of issuance of show cause notice.

7. As rightly contended by the petitioner, in terms of Section 74 of the GST Act, 2017, the respondents are supposed to provide at least a period of 6 months time to the petitioner, for filing their reply and to appear for personal hearing, prior to the passing of impugned order. However, in this case, the impugned order came to be passed by the respondent immediately within the period of 25 days from the date of issuance of show cause notice.

8. In view of the above, it is clear that the impugned order came to be passed by the respondent not only in contrary to the provisions of Section 74 of the GST Act, 2017, but also in violation of principles of natural justice. Therefore, this Court is inclined to set aside the
