2. The case of the prosecution is that due to a wordy quarrel, the petitioners assaulted the de facto complainant with a wooden log and abused him in filthy language.

3. The learned counsel appearing for the petitioners would submit that the petitioners are innocent; that they have been falsely implicated in this case; that the injured has been discharged from the hospital and prayed for anticipatory bail to the petitioners.

4. The learned Government Advocate (Crl. Side) appearing for the respondent police, while opposing the grant of anticipatory bail to the petitioners, reiterated the prosecution case and submitted that the injured has been discharged from the hospital and there is a counter case.

5. Considering the aforesaid facts, the nature of the allegations, the fact that the injured was discharged from the hospital, that there is a counter case and since, custodial interrogation is not required for the purpose of investigation, this Court is inclined to grant anticipatory bail
