3. When the defacto complainant was about to lodge the complaint against the first accused, this petitioner has intervened and promised the defacto complainant that he would settle the dispute amicably, after contacting the headquarters. headquarters at Delhi. Therefore, the case was registered against the petitioner. Hence, this petitioner and a few others are privy to the memo.

4. The learned counsel appearing for the petitioner submitted that even according to the complaint, money was given to the first accused and this petitioner has acted as a Mediator to settle the dispute being the District President of the party.

5.This Court, on reading the complaint, finds that the petitioner has not only acted as a Mediator, but he has threatened as if he will follow the matter and get admission to the defacto complainant's son, thereby misleading the defacto complainant. The materials indicates that the petitioner has actively participated in the crime of cheating the defacto complainant. Hence, this petition for anticipatory bail stands dismissed.
