The petitioners, who apprehend arrest at the hands of the respondent police for the offences punishable under Sections 69, 296(b), 115(2) and 351(2) of BNS, 2023 in Crime No.39 of 2025, on the file of the respondent police, seek anticipatory bail.

2.The case of the prosecution is that the A1 had intimate relationship with the de-facto complainant under the false promise of marriage, thereby the de-facto complainant became pregnant. The petitioners are relatives of A1, who were alleged to have verbally abused the de-facto complainant and demanded dowry for marriage. Hence, the case.

3.The contention of the learned counsel for petitioner is that the petitioners are no way connected to the alleged offences and they are unnecessarily roped in this offence. They neither abused nor threatened the de-facto complainant. He further submitted that the petitioners are ready to abide by any stringent conditions that may be imposed by this Court.

Now A1 has given an undertaking that he would marry the victim once he attains the age for marriage.

6. Considering the nature of allegations and the fact that it is a case of love affair, this Court is inclined to grant anticipatory bail to the petitioners with certain conditions.

7.Accordingly, the petitioners are ordered to be released on bail in the event of arrest or on their appearance, within a period of fifteen days from the date on which the order copy made ready, before the learned Judicial Magistrate, Tirukoilur, on condition that the petitioners shall execute a separate bond for a sum of Rs.10,000/- (Rupees Ten Thousand only) with two sureties each for a like sum to the satisfaction of the respondent police or the police officer who intends to arrest or to the satisfaction of the learned Magistrate concerned, and on proof of payment of deposits, failing which, the petition for anticipatory bail shall stand dismissed and on further condition that:
