5. Heard both sides and perused the records.

6. The allegations against the petitioner are grave and serious, involving the sexual assault of a three year old child. The tender age of the victim and the nature of offense alleged raise significant concerns about the safety and well-being of the victim. After carefully considering the submissions made by both sides, this Court find that granting of bail to the petitioner at this stage would not be in the interest of justice, hence, this Court is not inclined to grant the relief sought for by the petitioner.
