2. The case of the prosecution is that the petitioner is arrayed as A2 who is working in a HP petrol bunk. However, the petitioner along with A1 have stolen the petrol from the bunk and have sold to other persons. Due to the said act of the petitioner, the petrol bunk sustained a loss of Rs.1,48,000/-. Hence the case.

3. The learned counsel appearing for the petitioner submitted that the petitioner is an innocent person and he has been falsely implicated in this case. He further submitted that the petitioner is ready to abide by any stringent condition that may be imposed by this Court. Hence, he prayed for grant of anticipatory bail to the petitioner.

4. Learned Government Advocate (Criminal Side) appearing for the respondent police reiterated the prosecution case and opposed for grant of anticipatory bail to the petitioner.

5. Heard both sides and perused the materials available on record.
