2. The allegation against the petitioner/A2 viz., Ravivarman, who was working as Manager in the de-facto complainant's Company viz., Glow Aesthetic LLP. The petitioner along with his wife A1 created a deceptive bank account and QR Code payment system in the name of “Glow Skin Aesthetics” resembling the Company's name and placed fraudulent QR code at the company's premises. After operating new bank account, the petitioner along with his wife/A1 had swindled for more than 1.5 Crore by manipulating of invoices and QR code belonging to the de-facto complainant. Hence the complaint.

3. The learned counsel for the petitioner submits that the petitioner is an innocent person and he has been falsely implicated in this case. He submits that he has not committed any offence as alleged by the prosecution. He also submits that the petitioner is ready to abide by any conditions that may be imposed by this Court and ready to furnish sufficient solvent sureties for his release. Hence, he prays for grant of anticipatory bail to the petitioner.

4. The learned Government Advocate (Criminal side) appearing for the respondent police, reiterated the prosecution case and submits that 41-A notice was issued by the respondent police to the petitioner and his wife and after receiving notice, they did not appear before the respondent police. He further submits that huge amount has been transferred into the petitioner's account for more than 1.5 Crores by manipulating several invoices and QR code belongs to the de-facto complainant's company. However, he opposed for grant of anticipatory bail to the petitioner.

5. Taking into the aforesaid submissions made by the learned counsels on either side and considering the fact that prima-facie case is made out against the petitioner herein and considering the gravity of the offence committed by the petitioner herein and therefore, custodial interrogation is required in this case and therefore, this Court is not inclined to allow this Criminal Original Petition.

6. Accordingly, this Criminal Original Petition is dismissed.
