application seeking return of the document. The learned Master dismissed the said application.

2. This application is to condone delay. Notice had been directed to the respondents and it is contended that the first respondent/first plaintiff had been served and the second respondent / second plaintiff had not been served, but the address is incorrect. At any rate, the respondent would be heard while examining the order of the learned Master. Having examined the reasons, the delay stands condoned.

3. The Registry is directed to number the application challenging the order of the learned Master, if it is otherwise in order and list the same after numbering.
