For Petitioner(s): Ms.L.Meena

ORDER

Challenging the impugned order passed by the XVI Addl. Sessions Judge, City Civil Court, Chennai in Crl.A.No. 365 of 2024 as dismissed for default in C.C.No. 4185 of 2016 order dated 10.04.2024 on the file of XX Metropolitan Magistrate, Egmore @ Allikulam, Chennai, the petitioner/accused preferred this Criminal Revision Petition.

2. Before the appellate court, challenging the judgement passed in C.C.No.4185 of 2016 and to acquit the accused, the petitioner preferred an appeal and the same was dismissed for default, since there is no representation on both sides. Challenging the said findings, now the petitioner preferred this Criminal Revision Petition.

3. The learned counsel for petitioner argues that due to health issues, he is not able to appear on that day and also not able to comply the condition imposed by the trial court, but he is having valid defence to rebut the redemption attached with the dishonour of cheque. Now, he is ready to comply the condition.

4. Heard and considered rival submissions made by learned counsel for petitioner and perused materials available on record.

5. On seeing the facts, it reveals that the appeal was dismissed for default on 09.01.2025 and the original case was filed in the year of 2016, nearly about 9 years the complainant is standing before the court and due to health issues, he is not able to comply the condition. So, to give one more opportunity to defend his case, the order passed by the appellate court in CrI.A.No.395 of 2024 is set aside with a condition that the petitioner shall deposit a sum of Rs.35,000/- to the credit of C.C.No.4185 of 2016 on the file of XX Metropolitan Magistrate Court, Egmore @ Allikulam, Chennai within a period of six weeks from the date of receipt of copy of this order. On such deposit, the criminal appeal is ordered to be taken on file. If any deviation in complying the condition, the order passed by this court shall be cancelled. Accordingly, this Criminal Revision Case is allowed. Consequently, the connected Criminal Miscellaneous Petition is closed.
