2. The case of the prosecution is that the petitioner along with other accused was found to be in illegal possession of 125 grams of Ganja. Hence, the case.

3. The learned counsel for the petitioner would submit that the petitioner had been falsely implicated and that no seizure was made from the petitioner; and that based on the confession of arrested accused A1 to A3, this petitioner was added as an accused. Hence, he prays for the grant of bail.

4. The case of the prosecution as put forth by the learned Government Advocate (Criminal Side) appearing for the respondent police, opposing for grant of bail, is that the petitioner along with other accused was found to be in illegal possession of 125 grams of ganja. He would further submit that there is no previous case pending against the petitioner.

5. Heard the learned counsels on either side and perused the materials available on record.

6. Considering the facts and circumstances of the case, submissions made by learned counsels on either side, also considering the fact that the petitioner has no previous case and that the contraband seized from the accused persons is only a small quantity, this Court is inclined to grant anticipatory bail to the petitioner with certain conditions.
