3. The learned counsel appearing for the petitioner submitted that the petitioner is not in a position to bear the expenses of the police escort, since the petitioner and her husband are living alone without any assistance and managing their livelihood with some pension amount and some farming work.

4. Though the learned counsel for the petitioner has stated that the petitioner and her husband are in such poverty, so that, they are not in a position to afford the police escort, no materials have been placed before this Court to prove the same.

5. In such view of the matter, we are not inclined to interfere with the impugned order, as the first respondent has provided only minimum escort.

Hence, this writ petition (criminal) stands dismissed. No costs.
