The petitioner, who apprehends arrest in the hands of the respondent police for the offences punishable under Section 296(b) of BNS read with Section 4 of the TN Prohibition of Harassment of women Act, 2002, seeks anticipatory bail.

2. The case of the prosecution is that there was a property dispute between the petitioner and the de facto complainant, due to which, the petitioner abused the de facto complainant using filthy language and assaulted him. Hence, the complaint.

3. The learned counsel appearing for the petitioner would submit that the petitioner is an innocent person and he has been falsely implicated in the case. Therefore, he prays for grant of anticipatory bail to the petitioner.

4. The learned Government Advocate (Crl.Side) appearing for the respondent would submit that investigation is pending and the offences are grave in nature and vehemently opposed for the grant of anticipatory bail to the petitioner.

5. Heard the learned counsel for the petitioner as well the learned Government Advocate (Crl.Side) and perused the materials available on record.

6. Considering the nature of offences alleged against the petitioner and considering the fact that there is no previous case pending against the petitioner and that there appears to be a money dispute pending between the petitioner and the de facto complainant, I am inclined to grant
