3. Suppressing the said fact, the present Habeas Corpus Petition is filed as if the petitioner's daughter gone missing.

4. Having fully aware of the fact that the girl has eloped with the third respondent and living with him and they have already married, the present Habeas Corpus Petition is filed. This Court finds that it is clear abuse of all process of law. However, taking into consideration the other facts, the Habeas Corpus Petition is dismissed without imposing any costs.
