2.The case of the prosecution is that during temple festival, the petitioner and others scolded the defacto complainant and his son and beaten them. Thereafter, the defacto complainant has been admitted in hospital for treatment. Hence, the respondent police registered a case against the petitioner.

3.The learned counsel appearing for the petitioner that the petitioner is an innocent person and he has not committed any offence.

4.The learned Government Advocate (Crl.) appearing for the respondent on instruction would submit that there is no previous cases of similar nature pending as against the petitioner. The injured has been discharged from the hospital. He objects to grant anticipatory bail to the petitioner.

5.Considering the fact that the injured has been discharged from the hospital and there is no previous case as against the petitioner, this Court is inclined to grant anticipatory bail to the petitioner with certain conditions:

6.Accordingly, the petitioner is ordered to be released on anticipatory bail in the event of arrest or on his appearance, within a period of fifteen days from the date on which the order copy made ready, before the learned Judicial Magistrate,
