3.The learned Government Advocate(Crl.side) appearing for the respondents 1 & 2 submits that since there is a dispute between the petitioner and the private respondents, they have referred the matter to the Revenue Divisional Officer and the Revenue Divisional Officer has also conducted a peace committee meeting.

4.The learned counsel appearing for the respondents 3 & 4 submits that one Ramasubbu and the respondents 3 & 4 are the cultivating tenant of the land, which has been purchased by the petitioner. Further, they are also having patta with regard to some of the properties. The said Ramasubbu has also filed a suit in O.S.No.118 of 2025 and the same is pending before the Principal District Court, Thoothukudi.

6.The petitioner claims that he is the owner of the property, which was purchased with an intention to install solar power plant. The private respondents are raising certain issues that they are cultivating tenants. If they are cultivating tenants,they would have been registered under the Tenancy Act. The respondent Police are not justified in referring the matter to the Revenue Divisional Officer. In the event, of the petitioner is having valid registered sale deed, if anybody is obstructing this petitioner from utilising his land, it is the responsibility of the respondent Police to provide adequate Police protection.

7.In this case, it appears that this petitioner has purchased the land for the purpose of installing a solar power plant and he has been prevented by the private respondents. The private respondents also claim that they are having patta for the same. In that event, if the private respondents are having certain title over the property, they have to work out the remedy before the civil Court and they cannot take the law into their hands by preventing the petitioner from installing the solar power plant. It is the duty of the respondent Police to take necessary action as against the persons,
