4. With reference to the grievances, the learned standing counsel appearing for the TNPSC submitted that as per the invigilator's report ie., Headmaster of Khajamian Higher Secondary School, Trichirappalli, the facility was provided to the appellant in the ground floor to write the examination and extra time had also been granted. However, the appellant completed the examination within the time limit prescribed and handed over the papers to the invigilator.

5. May that as it be, the learned standing counsel appearing for the TNPSC has now submitted that the case of the appellant will be considered under the Persons With Disabilities (PWD) category. The cut-off marks applicable to the PWD category will be taken into consideration for the purpose of selecting the appellant both in the preliminary examination and in the ensuing main examination to be conducted.

6. Since the learned standing counsel appearing for the TNPSC has submitted that the appellant will be considered under the PWD category in the selection process, no further adjudication needs to be undertaken. The
