ORDER

The petitioner's husband Deivanayagam, who served as a Middle School Headmaster for a certain period, subsequently had been reverted to the post of Headmaster of Primary School and retired from service on 31.03.1996. He died in the year 2017. The petitioner wife of Deivanayagam has filed this writ petition seeking mandamus to revise the scale of pay of her husband in the cadre of Middle School Headmaster and to pay a revised pension from the year 1996.

2. When this writ petition is taken up for hearing, the learned counsel for the petitioner submits that this petitioner has passed away and he has to

3.The learned Additional Government Pleader for the respondents submits that even the deceased employee during his life time did not challenge the order of reversion to the lower post and revision of pay. However, on wrong advice, this petitioner has failed this writ petition.

4.Considering the fact that the employee during his service and lifetime did not challenge the order of reversion to the lower post and has not questioned for the revision of scale of pay and also considering the fact that this petitioner also died, this petition is closed. No costs.
