2. The husband filed HMOP No.594/2023 for divorce, in which the wife filed an IA No.2/2024 claiming interim maintenance. In the said petition, the trial Court has ordered for Rs.30,000/- each for the wife and child and in total, the husband was directed to pay a sum of Rs.60,000/- as interim maintenance from the date of petition and apart from the said interim maintenance, the husband was directed to pay Rs.10,000/- towards litigation expenses. Challenging the same, both the husband and wife are before this Court with these revision petitions.

3. The learned counsel for the husband would submit that the amount as ordered by the trial Court is exorbitant and it needs to be interfered with.

4. Per contra, the learned counsel for the wife would submit that the husband has every means to pay the interim maintenance, as he is running a company on his own and hence, the amount as ordered by the trial Court is very meagre and for enhancement, the wife is before this Court. He would further submit that since the wife has to maintain herself and her child, the amount ordered is just and proper and hence, prays for enhancement.

5. I have considered the rival submissions and perused the materials available on record.

6. Considering the submissions made by both sides, since the interim maintenance amount is found to be just and proper, the trial Court has ordered for Rs.30,000/- each to the wife and the child. When the petitioner is running his own company, the interim maintenance of Rs.60,000/- is found to be very meagre and hence, no interference is warranted to the order made in IA NO.2/2024 dated 28.08.2024. Accordingly, CRP(MD) No.147/2025 stands disposed of and CRP(MD) No.2950/2024 stands dismissed. No costs. Consequently connected Miscellaneous Petitions are closed.
