ORDER

Challenging the order passed by the TNPID Court, Madurai in Crl.M.P.Nos.237 of 2023 in Crime No.78 of 2021 on the file of E.O.W Tiruchirapalli, this criminal revision case is filed.

2. This petitioner has filed a petition under Section 451 of Cr.P.C to hand over Force Traveller Van bearing Chasis No.MC1E4GJA1KP000296, Engine No.D67022273, Registration No.TN-49-BQ-9520 to the petitioner's custody and grant leave to sell the said vehicle as per the condition mentioned in the loan agreement vide contact no.N011900498, dated 25.10.2018.

3. It is the case of the petitioner that the 2nd respondent had purchased the said vehicle availing credit facility from the petitioner for an amount of Rs.14,24,914/- as per loan agreement entered between the petitioner as well as the 2nd respondent on 25.10.2018. In the meanwhile, the said vehicle is seized in Crime No.78 of 2021 on the file of the 1st respondent and remanded before the learned Trial Court in R.P.R.No.17 of 2023. Though the learned Trial Court had allowed the petition for return of property partly, had imposed a condition that the petitioner should not sell the property till the disposal of the criminal case concerned.

4. Challenging the said petition, the learned counsel for the petitioner submitted that the said four wheeler is immaterial to the facts and circumstances of the TNPID case concerned and the 2nd respondent had borrowed a huge amount and he is a defaulter and it is the right of the petitioner to get it sold out since the 2nd respondent had defaulted payment in his loan.

5. Per contra, the learned Government Advocate (Crl.Side) submitted that each and every property seized in a TNPID case is necessary for the purpose of adjudicating the crime concerned by the learned Trial Court and hence, there is no necessity to interfere with the impugned order by setting aside the said condition.

6. Heard the learned counsel for the petitioner and the learned

7. Considering the fact that the property sought to be returned by the petitioner has been seized by the 1st respondent police in the TNPID case and as rightly recorded by the learned Trial Court that in a TNPID case properties seized under TNPID Act, both movable and immovable are very significant for the adjudication of the crime. The learned Trial Court has duly appreciated the diminishing nature of the property involved, had allowed the petition for return of property partly. I do not find any infirmity in the condition imposed by the learned Trial Court directing the petitioner not to sell the vehicle till the disposal of the crime and the same need not be interfered. However, the surety imposed by the learned Trial Court to a tune of Rs.15 Lakhs is reduced to Rs.10 Lakhs.

8. Accordingly, this Criminal Revision Case is dismissed.
