Harsimran Singh Sethi, J. (Oral)

1. In this bunch of writ petitions, prayer of the petitioner(s) is for the grant of pension on their actual wages and not on the basis of the deposit/ceiling fixed on the maximum wages.
2. Learned counsel for the respondent-EPFO submits that there was a option with the petitioners to opt for the grant of benefit of pension on their actual salary drawn by depositing the due amount with the parties concerned but the petitioner(s) never availed the said option and now the petitioner(s) wants the same benefit, which cannot be extended after the due date to opt for the same is over.
3. Learned counsel for the respondent-EPFO further submits that the petitioners never objected fixation of their pension but now they have filed present petitions after the year 2014 when there is no right exists with them to exercise the option for revising of their pension on the basis of actual wages drawn by them by depositing the due amount with the parties concerned.
4. Learned counsel for the respondent-EPFO submits that petitioners cannot equate themselves with the employees, who exercised the option and deposited the amount keeping in view the actual salary being drawn by them so as to enhance their pension.
