

CRA-S-2266-SB-2008
Date of decision: 06.05.2025

Versus

CORAM: HON'BLE MR. JUSTICE HARPREET SINGH BRAR

Mr. Rishabh Singla, AAG, Punjab.

HARPREET SINGH BRAR, J. (ORAL)

2. The appellant was convicted for keeping in possession 400 grams of opium and sentenced as mentioned below:

Offence	Sentence
Section 18 (c) of the Narcotic Drugs and Psychotropic Substances Act, 1985	Rigorous imprisonment for a period of 1^{1/2} years and to pay fine of Rs.3,000/- and in default of payment of fine, to further undergo rigorous imprisonment for two months.

3. Learned counsel for the appellant inter alia contends that the judgment passed by the learned trial Court is based upon surmises and conjectures. There is non-compliance of Section 50 of the NDPS Act and the appellant has been falsely implicated in the present case. There are many discrepancies in the statements of the prosecution witnesses and the learned Special Judge has not considered the same in a prospective manner and the defence version has not been properly appreciated. Further, he is not assailing the impugned judgment of conviction on merits and restricts his prayer to modification of the order on quantum of sentence, to that of the sentence already undergone by the appellant as he has already undergone period of 03 months and 07 days in custody and he is not involved in any other criminal activity.

4. Per contra, learned State counsel opposes the prayer of the appellants as the learned Court below has passed a well-reasoned judgment based on correct appreciation of evidence available on record and as such, he does not deserve any leniency.

5. Having heard learned counsel for the parties and after perusing the record with their able assistance, it transpires that the appellant was convicted for being in possession of 400 grams of opium, i.e. intermediate quantity, attracting the offence of Section 18(c) of NDPS Act, for which no minimum punishment has been prescribed. As per his custody certificate, the appellant has already undergone period of 03 months and 07 days out of total sentence of 1^{1/2} years, in the instant case. Since there is no minimum punishment prescribed under Section 18 NDPS Act, this Court is of the opinion that it would be in the interest of justice, if the sentence awarded to the appellant is reduced to the period already undergone by him.

6. In Deo Narain Mandal vs. State of U.P. (2004) 7 SCC 257, the Hon'ble Supreme Court has opined that awarding of sentence is not a mere formality in criminal cases. When a minimum and maximum term is prescribed by the statute with regard to the period of sentence, a discretionary element is vested in the Court. Background of each case, which includes factors like gravity of the offence, manner in which the offence is committed, age of the accused, should be considered while determining the quantum of sentence and this discretion is not to be used arbitrarily or whimsically. After assessing all relevant factors, proper sentence should be awarded bearing in mind the principle of proportionality to ensure the sentence is neither excessively harsh nor does it come across as lenient.

7. Further, the Hon'ble Supreme Court in Ravada Sasikala vs. State of AP AIR 2017 SC 1166, has reiterated that the imposition of sentence also serves a social purpose as it acts as a deterrent by making the accused realise the damage caused not only to the victim but also to the society at large. The law in this regard is well settled that opportunities of reformation must be granted and such discretion is to be exercised by evaluating all attending circumstances of each case by noticing the nature of the crime, the manner in which the crime was committed and the conduct of the accused to strike a balance between the efficacy of law and the chances of reformation of the accused.

8. A perusal of the judgment of conviction passed by the learned trial Court indicates no perversity in its findings and the same is based on correct appreciation of evidence available on record. However, the FIR (supra) was lodged on 10.04.2004 and the appellant has been suffering the agony of trial for last about 21 years. Since his conviction, he has grown into a law-abiding citizen and desires to live a peaceful life.

CRA-S-2266-SB-2008*-4-

9. Therefore, in view of the discussion above, the present appeal is disposed of in the following terms:-

(i) The judgment dated 17.11.2008 passed by the learned Special Judge, Moga, is upheld.

(ii) The order of sentence dated 17.11.2008 is modified to the extent that the sentence of rigorous imprisonment for 1^{1/2} years and fine along with default mechanism awarded to the appellant is reduced to the period of sentence already undergone by him.

10. Pending miscellaneous application(s), if any, shall also stand disposed of.
