...APPELLANT

Versus

STATE OF PUNJAB

...RESPONDENT

CORAM: HON'BLE MR. JUSTICE HARPREET SINGH BRAR

Present: Mr. Gurpreet Singh, Advocate as Amicus Curiae
for the appellant.

Mr. Nitesh Sharma, DAG Punjab.

Harpreet Singh Brar, J. (Oral)

1. Present appeal has been preferred by the appellant against the judgment of conviction and order on quantum of sentence dated 08.04.2009 passed by learned Judge, Special Court, Barnala vide which the appellant has been convicted and sentenced as mentioned below:

Offence under Section	Sentence	Fine	Sentence in default of payment of fine
15 of NDPS Act	Rigorous imprisonment for two years	Rs. 2,000/-	Rigorous imprisonment for three months

2. Brief facts of the case are that on 22.05.2005, ASI Pritam Singh along with other police officials, were proceeding from village Amla Singh Wala towards Village Hamidi, in connection with patrolling duty and when the police party reached near the drain bridge of village Amla Singh Wala, then on the left side of the drain path, accused-appellant-Janta Singh was seen stirring the contents of the gunny bag with the help of one dabba. On seeing the police party, he threw the dabba in the gunny bag and tried to flee away. However, he was apprehended and his name and address was verified. On the basis of suspicion, personal search of the appellant as well as the bag carried by him, was conducted and upon search of said bag, poppy husk was recovered. Out of the total quantity of poppy husk, two samples each of 250 grams were separated and the remaining poppy husk on weighment was found to be 31.500 kilograms. All the parcels were sealed. FIR(supra) was registered under Section 15 of the Narcotic Drugs and Psychotropic Substances Act, 1985 (hereinafter to be referred as 'NDPS Act').

3. Learned Amicus Curiae for the appellant inter alia contends that entire incriminating circumstances were not put to the appellant during recording of his statement under Section 313 of Cr.P.C. and further there are various flaws in the prosecution case as one Vipin Kumar was associated as independent witness at the time of effecting the alleged recovery of contraband but he has not been examined during the trial. Further it has been admitted by HC Gurnam Singh in his cross-examination that neither the CFSL form was filled up at the spot, nor the same was deposited with the MHC along with the case property. Further, there is a delay of 10 days in sending the representative sample to the office of chemical examiner, which has not been satisfactorily explained. The appellant has already undergone custody of 03 months and 29 days.

4. Per contra, learned State counsel opposes the prayer of the appellant on the ground that learned trial Court has passed a well-reasoned judgment based on correct appreciation of evidence available on record. Moreover, the appellant is also involved in other cases. Thus, he is not entitled to any relief by this Court.

CRA-S-1632-SB-2009 (O&M)*3

5. Having heard learned counsel for the parties and after perusing the record with their able assistance, it transpires that the appellant was convicted for being in possession of 32 kilogram of poppy husk, attracting the offence under Section 15 of NDPS Act, for which no minimum punishment has been prescribed. Perusal of custody certificate of the appellant indicates that he has already undergone custody of 03 months and 19 days out of total sentence of 02 years, in the instant case. Since there is no minimum punishment prescribed under Section 15 of NDPS Act, this Court is of the opinion that it would be in the interest of justice, if the sentence awarded to the appellant is reduced to the period already undergone by him.

6. In Deo Narain Mandal v. State of UP (2004) 7 SCC 257, a three Judge bench of the Hon'ble Supreme Court has opined that awarding of sentence is not a mere formality in criminal cases. When a minimum and maximum term is prescribed by the statute with regard to the period of sentence, a discretionary element is vested in the Court. Background of each case, which includes factors like gravity of the offence, manner in which the offence is committed, age of the accused, should be considered while determining the quantum of sentence and this discretion is not to be used arbitrarily or whimsically. After assessing all relevant factors, proper sentence should be awarded bearing in mind the principle of proportionality to ensure the sentence is neither excessively harsh nor does it come across as lenient.

7. Further, a two Judge Bench of the Hon'ble Supreme Court in Ravada Sasikala v. State of AP AIR 2017 SC 1166, has reiterated that the imposition of sentence also serves a social purpose as it acts as a deterrent by making the accused realise the damage caused not only to the victim but also to the society at large. The law in this regard is well settled that opportunities of reformation must be granted and such discretion is to be exercised by evaluating all attending circumstances of each case by noticing the nature of the crime, the manner in which the crime was committed and the conduct of the accused to strike a balance between the efficacy of law and the chances of reformation of the accused.

8. Further, the primary consideration in matters where the petitioner/appellant is involved in other NDPS cases ought to be the severity of the offence. Moreover, Co-ordinate benches of this Court have deemed it appropriate to reduce the sentence imposed upon the accused to be the custody already undergone by them, in spite of their involvement in other cases pertaining to the NDPS Act in Pritam Singh @ Preeti vs. State of Punjab in CRA-S-1769-SB-2010 decided on 03.04.2025, Ram Lal vs. State of Haryanain CRA-S-986-SB-2005 decided on 11.05.2018, Raj Pal vs. State of Haryanain CRA-S-68-SB-2005 decided on 28.04.2023, Raj Pal vs. State of Haryanain CRA-S-34-SB-2005 decided on 28.04.2023 and Gurmail Singh and others vs. State of Punjab in CRA-S-1976-SB-2007 decided on 28.03.2025

9. A perusal of the judgment of conviction passed by the learned trial Court indicates no perversity in its findings and the said judgment is based on correct appreciation of evidence available on record. However, the FIR (supra) was lodged on 22.05.2005 and the appellant has been suffering the agony of trial for last almost 20 years. Since his conviction, the appellant has reformed into a law-abiding citizen and intend to live a peaceful life.

10. Therefore, in view of the discussion above, the present appeal is disposed of in the following terms:-

- (i) The judgment dated 08.04.2009 passed by the learned Judge, Special Court, Barnala is upheld.

(ii) The order of sentence dated 08.04.2009 is modified to the extent that the sentence of rigorous imprisonment for 02 years along with fine of Rs. 2,000/- with default mechanism awarded to the appellant is reduced to the period of sentence already undergone by him.

11. Pending miscellaneous application(s), if any, shall also stand disposed of.

12. High Court Legal Services Authority is directed to pay remuneration to learned Amicus Curiae as per rules.
