

IN THE HIGH COURT OF PUNJAB AND HARYANA AT CHANDIGARH

CRM-M-10416-2025
DECIDED ON:27.02.2025

SANJEEV

.....PETITIONER

VERSUS

STATE OF HARYANA AND ANR

.....RESPONDENTS

CORAM: HON'BLE MR. JUSTICE SANDEEP MOUDGIL

Present: Mr. Pinki Mehla, Advocate for the petitioner.

Mr. B.S. Virk, Sr. DAG, Haryana.

SANDEEP MOUDGIL, J (ORAL)

1. The petitioner is seeking the intervention of this Court under Section 483(3) of BNSS for cancellation of bail of respondent no.2 granted by this Hon'ble High Court, vide its order dated 31.05.2023 (Annexure P-11) in FIR No.583, dated 14.10.2021, under Sections 120-B, 302,3017,324,449,326,201 of IPC at Police Station Pundri, District Kaithal, Haryana.

2. Learned counsel for the petitioner-complainant has contended that true facts of the case have not been putforth before this court wherein it is not only a case of double murder but a clear case of recovery also. He further contends that the co-accused namely Ismile Ali @Raju had murdered Geeta and her minor daughter Smriti in a barbaric manner and also gave serious injuries to Saksham, stole two mobile phones which got recovered from respondent no.2-accused namely Darshan Singh. It is submitted by the counsel for the petitioner that the motive of respondent no.2 stands clear wherein he wants to grab the land of the deceased for which he hired his servant (co-accused Ismile Ali @Raju) to kill the mother and sister of minor Saksham and also paid him Rs.30,000/-.

3. Learned State Counsel appearing on advance notice has neither supported the case of the petitioner so as to cancel the anticipatory bail granted to the respondent nor opposed the prayer.

4. Heard counsel for the respective parties.

5. Before considering the contentions raised in this petition, certain principles, which govern the grant of bail, are required to be noticed. In Neeru Yadav Vs. State of UP & Anr., (2016) 15 SCC 422, it was held by Hon'ble Supreme Court as under: -

“11. It is the duty of the Court to take into consideration certain factors and they basically are, (i) the nature of accusation and the severity of punishment in cases of conviction and the nature of supporting evidence, (ii) reasonable apprehension of tampering with the witnesses for apprehension of threat to the complainant, and (iii) Prima facie satisfaction of the court in support of the charge.”

6. Proceeding ahead, there can be no doubt that all the aforesaid factors are required to be taken into consideration while granting bail to an accused, but it is a well-established principle that once bail has been granted, it would require cogent and overwhelming circumstances for its cancellation. At the same time, equally important is to note that bail can be revoked by the superior court, if the court granting bail has ignored relevant material available on record, as observed by the Hon'ble Supreme Court in Vipan Kumar Dhir

Vs. State of Punjab 2021 SCC OnLine SC 854.

7. In State Through Delhi Administration vs Sanjay Gandhi, 1978

AIR 961, it has been observed by Hon'ble Apex Court that:

“Rejection of bail when bail is applied for is one thing; cancellation of bail already granted is quite another. It is easier to reject a bail application in a non-bailable case than to cancel a bail granted in such a case. Cancellation of bail necessarily involves the review of a decision already made and can by and large be permitted only if, by reason of supervening circumstances, it would be no longer conducive to a fair trial to allow the accused to retain his freedom during the trial.”

8. In Ms. X vs The State of Telangana (2018) 16 SCC 511, Hon'ble Supreme Court held that:

“In a consistent line of precedent this Court has emphasised the distinction between the rejection of bail in a non-bailable case at the initial stage and the cancellation of bail after it has been granted. In adverting to the distinction, a Bench of two learned Judges of this Court in Dolatram v State of Haryana [(1995) 1 SCC 349] observed that:

“Rejection of a bail in a non-bailable case at the initial stage and the cancellation of bail so granted, have to be considered and dealt with on different basis. Very cogent and overwhelming circumstances are necessary for an order directing the cancellation of the bail, already granted. (Generally speaking, the grounds for cancellation of the bail, already granted, broadly (illustrative and not exhaustive) are: interference or attempt to interfere with the due course of administration of justice or evasion of attempt to evade the due course of justice or abuse of the concession granted to the accused in any manner. The satisfaction of the court, on the basis of material placed on the record of the possibility of the accused absconding is yet another reason justifying the cancellation of bail. However, bail once granted should not be cancelled in a mechanical manner without considering whether any supervening circumstances have rendered it no longer conducive to a fair trial to allow the accused to retain his freedom by enjoying the concession of bail during the trial.”

9. These principles have been reiterated by another two Judge Bench decision in 'Central Bureau of Investigation, Hyderabad v Subramani Gopalakrishnan (2011) 5 SCC 296' and more recently in 'Dataram Singh v State of Uttar Pradesh (2018) 3 SCC 22':-

"It is also relevant to note that there is difference between yardsticks for cancellation of bail and appeal against the order granting bail. Very cogent and overwhelming circumstances are necessary for an order directing the cancellation of bail already granted. Generally speaking, the grounds for cancellation of bail are, interference or attempt to interfere with the due course of administration of justice or evasion or attempt to evade the due course of justice or abuse of the concessions granted to the accused in any manner. These are all only few illustrative materials. The satisfaction of the Court on the basis of the materials placed on record of the possibility of the accused absconding is another reason justifying the cancellation of bail. In other words, bail once granted should not be cancelled in a mechanical manner without considering whether any supervening circumstances have rendered it no longer conducive to a fair trial to allow the accused to retain his freedom by enjoying the concession of bail during the trial."

10. In 'Myakala Dharmarajam Vs. The State of Telangana, (2020) 2 SCC 743,' it has been held by the Hon'ble Supreme Court: - interferes with the course of investigation, (iii) attempts to tamper with evidence or witnesses, (iv) threatens witnesses or indulges in similar activities which would hamper smooth investigation, (v) there is likelihood of his fleeing to another country, (vi) attempts to make himself scarce by going underground or becoming unavailable to the investigating agency, (vii) attempts to place himself beyond the reach of his surety, etc. The above grounds are illustrative and not exhaustive. It must also be remembered that rejection of bail stands on one footing but cancellation of bail is a harsh order because it interferes with the liberty of the individual and hence it must not be lightly resorted to.

“In Raghubir Singh v. State of Bihar, (1986) 4 SCC 481 this Court held that bail can be cancelled where (i) the accused misuses his liberty by indulging in similar criminal activity, (ii)

11. It is trite law that cancellation of bail can be done in cases where the order granting bail suffers from serious infirmities resulting in miscarriage of justice. If the court granting bail ignores relevant material indicating prima facie involvement of the Accused or takes into account irrelevant material, which has no relevance to the question of grant of bail to the accused, the High Court or the Sessions Court would be justified in cancelling the bail.”

12. Hon’ble Supreme Court in Criminal Appeal No.658 of 2022 (arising out of SLP (Crl) NO.27 of 2022) titled as Imran Vs. Mr. Mohammed Bhava and another decided on 22.04.2022, has held as under:

“26. Thus, while considering cancellation of bail already granted by a lower court, would indeed require significant scrutiny at the instance of superior court, however, bail when granted can always be revoked if the relevant material on record, gravity of the offence or its societal impact have not been considered by the lower court. In such instances, where bail is granted in a mechanical manner, the order granting bail is liable to be set aside. Moreover, the decisions cited herein above, enumerate certain basic principles which must be borne in mind when deciding upon an application for grant of bail. Thus, while each case has its own unique factual matrix, which assumes a significant role in determination of bail matters, grant of bail must also be exercised by having regard to the above-mentioned well-settled principles”.

13. It is, thus, clear that an appellate or a Superior Court can set aside the order granting bail, if the Court granting bail did not consider the relevant factors. Said position of law has been made further clear by Hon’ble Supreme Court in Criminal Appeal No.680 of 2021 arising out of SLP (Crl) No.3155 of 2018 titled as M/s Supreme Bhiwandi Wada Manor Infrastructure Pvt. Ltd. Vs. The State of Maharashtra and another decided on 26.07.2021.

14. Adverting to the merits of this case, as alleged, it is a case of chance recovery wherein the specific allegations have been alleged against the main accused namely Ismile Ali @Raju to have killed deceased Geeta and her minor daughter Smriti and no shadow of evidence has come forth to state the active involvement of the petitioner which as matter of fact is to be decided by the trial court while adjudicating the matter in accordance with law.

15. In all the aforesaid facts and circumstances, this Court finds no ground to interfere in the impugned order dated 31.05.2023 passed by this court, so as to cancel the regular bail granted to respondent.

16. Hence, the present petition stands dismissed.
