He also drew the attention of this Court towards the account statement of the petitioner wherein the amount received in the account of the petitioner, has been transferred to some other account(s) on the same day itself.

3. Notice of motion.

4. Mr. Sandeep Kumar, DAG, Punjab accepts notice on behalf of the respondent-State and opposes the grant of bail to the petitioner while submitting that the petitioner intentionally provided his account details to the co-accused and received huge amount in lieu thereof and the complainant has been duped to the tune of Rs.79.27 lakh by the co-accused.

5. Heard.

6. Keeping in view the facts and circumstances of the present case and the allegation that the petitioner provided his account details to the co-accused through which huge amount has been transferred to some other account on the same date, approx. Rs.8 lakh was transferred in the account of the petitioner; investigation in the present case has already been completed; challan stands presented; out of total 15 prosecution witnesses, only 02 have been examined so far; keeping in view the fact the age of the petitioner and the fact that if he is kept in custody for longer time period, he will come in contact with hard core criminal(s) which resultantly, may demolish his future prospects; no useful purpose would be served by keeping
