LISA GILL, J.(Oral)

1. Learned Senior counsel for petitioner, at the outset, fairly states that order of blacklisting has been rescinded and work allotted under the contract has since been completed in view of interim orders passed in this writ petition. It is only a dispute regarding payments due towards petitioner which now remains. Therefore, nothing survives in present writ petition, which is now rendered infructuous. It is, however, prayed that petitioner be afforded liberty to avail remedy(ies) available to him in accordance with law for any dispute regarding payments due towards him.
2. Learned counsel for respondents affirms and verifies the factual position as above.

3. Keeping in view the facts and circumstances as above and specific stand of parties, this writ petition is disposed of as infructuous without expressing any opinion on merits of the matter with liberty to petitioner to avail remedy(ies) available in respect to any dispute regarding payment which, in any case, is not subject matter of this writ petition.
