1. Learned counsel for the petitioner submit that though, the claim raised by the petitioner for reverting back the land in question, which land was transferred by the petitioner-senior citizen to the private respondents has been rejected on the ground that the same does not come under the provisions of the Maintenance and Welfare of Parents and Senior Citizen Act, 2007 (hereinafter referred to as '2007 Act') as the land in question was transferred prior to the enactment of the 2007 Act but as the petitioner-senior citizen has a claim for financial maintenance keeping in view the fact that total land belonging to the petitioner-senior citizen was transferred in favour of the private respondents hence, the present petition may kindly be disposed of having been not pressed any further with liberty to the petitioner-senior citizen to agitate his claim for maintenance under the 2007
