Instant petition has been filed under Section 482 of Criminal Procedure Code, 1973, seeking quashing of the below detailed First Information Report (FIR), and all the consequential proceedings arising therefrom, on the basis of the compromise dated 09.06.2023 (Annexure P-2), effected between the parties.

DETAILS OF CRIMINAL CASE:-

FIR No.	Date	Section(s)	Police Station	District
100	31.05.2023	324, 148, 149, 307, 326 of IPC	Dinanagar	Gurdaspur

Further, details of petitioner(s)/accused and complainant/victim(s), as per memorandum of parties of present petition, is as under:-

Sr. No.	Name(s)	Status in present petition viz. Petitioner/accused OR Complainant/victim respondent No.
1.	Sukhjinder Singh@ Sukha Jugraj Singh @ Joban Gurshil singh @ Sahil Sukhmanjeet Singh @ Sukhman	Petitioners/accused
2.	Pankit Seria	Respondent No.2.

2. Regarding under Section 307 IPC, learned counsel for the petitioner and private respondents while supporting in compromise, jointly argued that the injury though has been suffered by injured namely, Ankit Singh Seria on his head, which was caused by petitioner No.1 by a datar blow, the said injury was declared dangerous to life at belated stage that is after a period of 12 days of the incident. He also argues that both the parties known to each other since long and there is a little distance between their houses. Further, the likelihood of succeeding the case of prosecution would be almost nil and by citing the judgment of Narinder Singh vs. State of Punjab, (2014) 6 SCC 466, learned counsel for the petitioner points out that such a situation has been noticed by the Hon’ble Apex Court also.

3. In view of this, the applicability of Section 307 of IPC would be a moot question before the trial Court. Moreover, in view of the judgment of Narinder Singh’s case (supra), continuing with the proceedings, when parties have already entered into a compromise, would be a futile exercise and therefore, if proceedings arising from the aforementioned FIR, and all the consequential proceedings arising therefrom, are quashed, all the parties and their family members will be able to live their lives peacefully.

4. Notice of motion. On asking of the Court, learned State counsel, who is present in the Court, accepts notice on behalf of the respondent-State.

5. Mr. Harmeet Singh, Advocate, appears on behalf of respondent No.2 and admits execution of the compromise (Annexure P-2).

4. Learned counsel for the petitioner(s) submits that in view of the report received from the learned Court Below, it is evident that the matter has been resolved and private parties have effected a compromise, and there remains no dispute amongst them requiring any adjudication. Further submits that in view of the compromise so effected between the private parties, pendency of the FIR and consequential proceedings emanating therefrom would be sheer abuse of the process of law, and the same may be quashed.

5. Learned State counsel as also learned counsel for private respondent(s), after going through the statements and the report received from learned Court below, very fairly admit that the private parties have resolved their dispute and effected a compromise and that they have no objection if the FIR (supra) and all the consequential proceedings are quashed on the basis of the compromise.

6. Through catena of judgments, Hon'ble the Apex Court and High Courts (including Punjab and Haryana High Court), have culled out various principles of law concerning quashing of proceedings emanating after lodging of FIR, and some of them are as under:-

Power under Section 482 Cr.P.C./Section 528 BNSS can be exercised to enhance social amity, and to reduce friction.

Disputes which have their genesis in a matrimonial discord, landlord-tenant matters, commercial transactions and other such matters can safely be dealt with by the Court by exercising its powers under Section 482 Cr.P.C./Section 528 BNSS in the event of a compromise, but this is not to say that the power is limited to such cases.

There can never be any hard and fast category which can be prescribed to enable the Court to exercise its power under Section 482 Cr.P.C./Section 528 BNSS "to prevent abuse of the process of any Court" or "to secure the ends of justice".

No embargo, be in the shape of Section 320(9) Cr.P.C./Section 359 BNSS, or any other such curtailment, can whittle down the power under Section 482 of the Cr.P.C./Section 528 of the BNSS.

The compromise, in a modern society, is the sine qua non of harmony and orderly behaviour.

High Court has the wide power to quash the proceedings even in non-compoundable offences notwithstanding the bar under Section 320 Cr.P.C./Section 359 BNSS, in order to prevent the abuse of law and to secure the ends of justice.

Power under Section 482 Cr.P.C./Section 528 BNSS is to be exercised Ex-Debitia Justitia to prevent an abuse of process of Court.

Such power has no limits. However, the High Court will exercise it sparingly and with utmost care and caution.

The exercise of power has to be with circumspection and restraint.

The Court is a vital and an extra-ordinary effective instrument to maintain and control social order.

The Courts play role of paramount importance in achieving peace, harmony and ever-lasting congeniality in society.

Resolution of a dispute by way of a compromise between two warring groups, therefore, should attract the immediate and prompt attention of a Court which should endeavour to give full effect to the same unless such compromise is abhorrent to lawful composition of the society or would promote savagery.

Matters which can be categorized as personal in nature or where nature of injuries do not exhibit mental depravity or involves commission of an offence of such a serious nature that quashing of FIR would override the public interest, the

Court can quash the FIR in view of the settlement arrived at amongst the parties.

In this regard, judgments cited are:

1. Gian Singh v. State of Punjab and another, (2012) 10 SCC 303 (SC);
2. Parbatbhai Aahir @ Parbatbhai Bhimsinhbhai Karmur and others v. State of Gujarat and another, (2017) 9 SCC 641 (SC);
3. Ramgopal and another v. State of Madhya Pradesh, 2021 SCC Online SC 834 (SC); and
4. Kulwinder Singh and others v. State of Punjab and another, 2007 (3) RCR (Criminal) 1052 [P&H FB]

7. After hearing learned counsel for the parties and going through the material available on record, this Court finds that there appears to be substance in the submission of learned counsel for the petitioners that pendency of the present criminal litigation would be abuse of process of law since the chances of conviction of the petitioners are bleak in view of the compromise, so effected between the private parties.

8. The report alongwith statements of the affected parties received from learned Court below would reveal that the complainant/victim person(s) has genuinely effected a compromise with the petitioners and he has no objection, if the impugned FIR and consequential proceedings are quashed.

9. Keeping in view the totality of the facts and circumstances of the case, including the report received by this Court and also, taking into consideration the aforementioned settled principles of law, this petition is accepted and FIR (as detailed in para No. 1 above) and all the consequential proceedings arising therefrom are hereby quashed qua the petitioners, in view of compromise dated 09.06.2023 (Annexure P-2).

10. Petition stands disposed of.
