

$~86

* IN THE HIGH COURT OF DELHI AT NEW DELHI
+ CRL.REV.P. 594/2023 & CRL.M.A. 14168/2023,
CRL.M.A. 14170/2023
MOHD.TAYYABPetitioner

Through: Mr. Parmeet Singh, Adv.

versus

FARHEEN SYED AND ANR.Respondents
Through: Mr. Amir Kaleem, Adv.

CORAM:
HON'BLE MR. JUSTICE AMIT MAHAJAN
ORDER
% 17.11.2025

1. The present petition was filed way back in May, 2023 challenging the order of interim maintenance dated 13.02.2023.
2. This Court, by order dated 23.05.2023, noting that the evidence on record suggested that the petitioner had suffered an accident and was therefore unemployed, directed the petitioner to pay ad-interim maintenance of ₹7,500/- per month in place of ₹15,000/- per month as awarded by the learned Family Court.
3. Thereafter, the matter could not be taken up for one reason or another. It is pointed out that the evidence before the learned Family Court has since been recorded and the matter is now listed for final arguments.
4. On behalf of the petitioner, it is suggested that since the proceedings have reached the fag end and the final maintenance amount will be determined shortly, the order of ad-interim maintenance passed by this Court may be continued until disposal of the proceedings before the learned Family Court.
5. The petitioner, who is present in Court, undertakes that

CRL.REV.P. 594/2023

Page 1 of 3

from November onwards and until disposal of the proceedings before the learned Family Court, he shall pay a sum of ₹15,000/- per month and shall not seek any adjournment before the learned Family Court.

6. He additionally submits that although he reserves the right to challenge the final order, he shall continue to pay a sum of ₹15,000/- per month during the pendency of any such appeal and will pay the arrears within a period of three months from the passing of the final order.

7. The suggestion made by the petitioner commends to this Court.

8. It is undisputed that the impugned order pertains only to interim maintenance. Considerable time has passed since the filing of the present petition, and the proceedings before the learned Family Court are now at an advanced stage.

9. The petitioner, as noted above, has also undertaken that in the event the respondent succeeds and the learned Family Court grants maintenance of ₹15,000/- per month, the respondent will not suffer any prejudice on account of the pendency of the present proceedings, as the entire arrears will be paid within three months.

10. In view of the above, the present petition is disposed of with a direction to the learned Family Court to pass a final order without granting any unwarranted adjournments to either party.

11. In the meantime, until the final order is passed by the learned Family Court, the petitioner is directed to pay a sum of ₹15,000/- per month starting from this month. The petitioner is bound down to the undertakings recorded above.

12. All rights and contentions of the parties are left open to be agitated before the learned Family Court.

13. The petition is disposed of in the aforesaid terms. Pending applications also stand disposed of.

AMIT MAHAJAN, J

NOVEMBER 17, 2025
“SK”