1. After hearing arguments for some time, learned counsel for petitioner submits that petitioner would not press his present writ petition any further if he is permitted to approach the respondent-bank again with a fresh request. He only seeks a direction to the bank to consider such proposal without being prejudiced to the background facts and to consider the same in accordance with law.
2. Learned counsel for respondent-bank, without prejudice to their rights and contentions, has no objection to the aforesaid proposal.
3. In view of the aforesaid, present writ petition is disposed of as not pressed.
4. Petitioner is, simultaneously, at liberty to approach the respondent-bank with a fresh proposal. In case any such proposal is submitted by the petitioner within ten days from today, it will be upto to the respondent-bank to consider the same in accordance with law, as expeditiously as possible,
