1. This petition has been listed today on an office note, at my instance, in view of an inadvertent typographical error in the judgment dated 08.05.2025, by which the petition was disposed of. The error is in paragraph 13 of the judgment, where the word “not” has been omitted from the first sentence.

2. Learned counsel for the parties are present, and with their consent, the judgment dated 08.05.2025 is rectified to the extent that paragraph 13 will be read as follows:-

“13. However, I am of the view that the aforesaid issue does not arise for determination in this writ petition. The challenge of the petitioner herein is against the memorandum dated 03.08.2024, which is not predicated on compliance or non-compliance with the 2014 Circular.”
