2. By an order dated 11th March, 2026, the learned counsel appearing for the authorities prays for time to take instruction. Today when the matter was called, the learned counsel for the Postal Authorities has submitted the report wherein it is mentioned that “Upon inquiry it was found that no such application was presented at the Receipt and Dispatch section of this Office on 09.03.2026. However, the consignment in question was delivered on the same day on which it was received; i.e. on 02.08.2025 (the authenticated copies of delivery slip and SAP tracking report of this Office is attached for kind reference)”.

3. By referring the said report, the learned counsel for the Postal Authorities has drawn the attention of this Court to the delivery manifest of Chand Kumar and submits that serial No.41 mentioned about the consignment No. CD780116485IN and as per the manifest the item was delivered to the consignee.
4. One Mr. Ankit Juneja has filed an application being CAN 1 of 2026 praying for addition of party on the ground that the applicant is one of the respondents before the National Consumer Disputes Redressal Commission at New Delhi.
5. The copy of the report has also been served to Mr. Gupta who is appearing for the applicant. Mr. Gupta has disputed with regard to the said document and the report.
6. This Court finds that the petitioner intends to prove that the notice sent by the Office of the National Consumer Disputes Redressal Commission being consignment No. CD780116485IN was delivered to the applicant. As per the report, consignment was delivered to the applicant but the applicant is denying the same.
